

The People's Column

Probably the most soul wrecking occurrence in any office today is to be inflicted with one of the workers therein carrying a perpetual frown. This fellow never speaks to anyone unless it is forced upon them and then if he does it is a half grunt and the other half some foreign language. There should be a place somewhere in some dark corner of some foreign country to corral all of these fellows and let them spend the remainder of their lives where they will not bother their fellow man.

Smetana Citizens Hold Better Poultry Meeting

D. H. Reid, poultry husbandman of the A. & M. College, and County Agent Beason attended the meeting at Smetana Tuesday night called by Principal J. D. Martin to interest the people in better poultry. Dr. Reid made a very interesting talk, stressing proper housing, correct feeding and good breeding as essentials in the success of any poultry enterprise. He pointed out that the omission of only one item in a feed ration might mean all the profit in egg production. Too much grain often accounts for poor egg production. Sanitation, comfortable houses and proper feeding are factors that help keep off disease. Warm water in cold weather often helps keep up egg production.

Dr. Reid stated that with the high production birds now found in Texas there is no use in sending to other countries for breeding stock. He stated that the present decline in price of eggs was caused by cold storage eggs being placed on the market in competition with fresh eggs. His entire talk on poultry, and the marketing situation was well received.

Akers Says Cause Democrat Defeat

Whispering Campaign Cause of Silent Votes Was The Woeful Shortage of Votes

By LES AKERS

Yes Sir, I was mistaken. It wasn't no cyclone struck or sky scraper fell on we Democrats. Since we have recovered our senses we have discovered that it was just a old fashion Republican landslide mixed with a volcano eruption and a cloud burst that struck the Democrat camp.

A lot of fellers has been bizziggin' the thing out and explainin' how it all happened and they all seem to have different ideas about it but it is all perfectly clear to me. There is just one thing to it—there was a woeful and painful shortage of Democratic votes, the proclashun of Democrats below the demand for the past several yrs., it seems.

Another explanation is that there was enuff Democrats but too many Republicans in the country; while still another good reason brought forth is that there was more folks who wanted Hoover for President than there was who wanted Smith. Any of these rea-

FORT WORTH, Nov. 21.—If a student should enter Texas Christian University with the beginning of the fall semester of 1928 with the intention of taking every course now offered by the university at the rate of five courses a year, it would take him 51 years, and he would still lack one half-year course at the opening of the 1979-80 school year, according to the fall catalogue of T. C. U., which shows 161 half year and 175 full year courses now being offered.

The school of fine arts leading the university in the number of offerings with 40, and Brite College of the Bible is second with 39. The department of business administration offers 19 courses and the English and sociology departments offer 18 each.

Deceased was 85 years of age, and had been a resident of Houston for many years. Her son, Dr. E. M. Arnold, made his home with his mother in Houston.

Cecil Storey May Enter Speakership Race on Pledges

AUSTIN, Nov. 21.—Forty-first Legislature politics began buzzing Tuesday with the opening of headquarters here in the Speakership contest of W. R. Montgomery and W. S. Barron. The session does not begin until Jan. 8. At least a dozen members of the Legislature are here working for the candidates and at the same time they are trying to solve the riddle of what course to pursue on major bills that are certain to be offered. Conferences on legislative measures, especially highway subjects, are being held.

Straws carried by political winds indicate that most of Barron's strength will come from East and Central Texas, while Montgomery is getting most of his support from South and West Texas. Barron comes from Bryan in Brazos county, while Montgomery's home is in Edinburg in Hidalgo county. Legislators who gathered here Monday and Tuesday declare that the race is close, that neither candidate is assured of majority and that pledges for second choice are being eagerly sought. Cecil Storey, Representative from Vernon, has a number of second choice promises.

NEGRO SCHOOL CAN RECEIVE $2600 GIFT

ROSENWALD INSPECTOR SAYS REQUIREMENTS MET HE CAN MAKE GIFT

That the Rosenwald endowment will give $2,600 to the Bryan negro schools, provided the school is built according to plans and specifications as outlined by them, was assured this morning by G. T. Bludworth, state inspector for this fund.

The only requirements of this fund are that the school will be built according to their plans and shall be a ten room structure. Mr. Bludworth said that the school board might be able to accept plans of other architects and that it may be possible that he would give his approval to the plans as meeting with the Rosenwald requirements, but that it would not be probable.

Mr. Bludworth is at the present time in this city for the purpose of inspecting a recently built rural negro school with the idea of making a Rosenwald endowment. This school was built according to their rules and specifications and it is believed that the endowment will be received. This school will be the first negro school in the county to receive this fund.

According to Mr. Bludworth there are at the present time 400 negro schools in this state who have received the Rosenwald endowment. These schools represent an approximate investment of $1,500,000 of which the endowment fund has paid about 19 per cent, or near $300,000.

This endowment given by Julius Rosenwald of Chicago, now has a total foundation of $20,000,000 and of this amount $500,000 is given to negro schools yearly. This foundation was started by Mr. Rosenwald for the purpose of stimulating negro school buildings in the seventeen Southern states where separate schools are maintained for whites and negroes. In addition to the schools appropriations are also made to negro teachers' homes, shops and school libraries.

It will be remembered that a recent bond election was carried in this city for the purpose of the erection of new school buildings. In this bond issue is also carried the bonds for the building of a negro school. The present plans, as gathered by city officials, are for the remodeling of the present negro school and the erection of a new school in the opposite end of the city. By meeting the requirements of the Rosenwald fund, the city can receive $2,600 in the erection of this building.

ONE YEAR OLD CHILD FOUND IN CAN WITH LIMBS DISMEMBERED

Theory Advanced by Police That Child and Mother Were Killed by Gunshots at Hand of Unknown Fiend; Body of Mother is Expected to be Found in Underbrush

(By Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Nov. 21.—The theory that the mother of the unidentified murdered baby also met death at the hands of a fiend was advanced here today, when police records failed to show a report of a missing infant. The baby's mutilated body, which had been stuffed into a lard can, was found near here yesterday. The child had been stabbed and shot and the body dismembered. Police believed that it was the buckshot charge which probably caused death and also killed the mother and that the dense underbrush in the vicinity may yield another body.

Christmas Trading Should Be Done Before the Rush

With only 26 actual working days left until Christmas, Bryan merchants are beginning to prepare their front display shelves with candies, compacts, cards, and other various items used to show Christmas cheer.

This is the time of the year when the ordinary individual should begin to give a little thought to this subject, before all stores and ways of transportation are crowded with the usual last minute shoppers.

Bryan merchants are now prepared to supply all wants in the way of Christmas presents, and the postoffice and express company are amply able to take care of all shipments while in the course of the next week or ten days the first of the heavy Yuletide load will appear and then Christmas packages will be late in arriving.

If all Bryan shoppers will start in today to buy their annual list of presents and have them in ready for shipment by the first of December, the ordinary Christmas delay will not be experienced. Buy early, and tie all packages securely, and see that the package is properly addressed and thereby help the transportation companies help you.

53,000 More Bales of Cotton On Hand the First of Month Than Same Period Last Year.

AUSTIN, Nov. 21.—There was an indicated supply of 12,807,000 bales of cotton in the United States on November 1, compared to 12,254,000 bales on Nov. 1, 1927, according to Bervard Nichols, assistant in charge of index numbers in the bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

The large decrease from the indicated supply on Oct. 1 is further evidence that the amount of cotton on hand at the end of the present cotton year is likely to be materially reduced," Mr. Nichols said.

"On Nov. 1, the indicated supply of cotton in the United States was 533,000 bales above the amount on that date in 1927. In the past seven years, changes in the supply on Nov. 1 have totaled 16,397,000 bales. During the same period, deflated price changes have amounted to 4,836 points, or a change of 29.5 points for each change of 100,000 bales in the supply of cotton. At the same ratio with an increase in the supply of 533,000 bales, there should be a decrease of 163 deflated points in the price. Based on the supply in the United States alone, New Orleans middling spots should be about 18.55 cents a point, or only about 15 points under quotations on November 15. In this connection, it should be noted that the outlook for the textile industry is very much brighter than it was a year ago at this time and prices are likely to respond to the more favorable conditions. The Bureau of Labor statistics index based on 1926 as equal to 100 was used in deflating prices. "During October, 610,000 bales were used in the United States, compared to 492,000 in September and 613,000 in October, 1927. Cotton is moving into consumption channels relatively much more rapidly than it did last year. On Sept. 1, the supply in the United States was 1,157,000 bales greater than that on Sept. 1, 1927, whereas on Nov. 1, the excess was reduced to 533,000 bales. The supply, therefore, of 12,807,000 bales on November 1 is certainly not excessive. "The report of the Cotton Textile Merchants of New York is very encouraging. A total of 285,000,000 yards of cloth were produced in October and 402,000,000 yards were sold or 141.1 per cent of the output. In the previous month, sales were 152.6 per cent above production, at that stocks were reduced to only 395,000 yards. Unfilled orders increased from 398,000,000 yards on Oct. 1 to 493,000,000 yards on Nov. 1, a gain of 23.8 per cent. "In contrast to the United States, supplies in Europe are below those of last year at this time. Stocks and cotton afloat in Europe were 1,405,000 bales against 1,938,000 on Nov. 1, 1927. This is a decline of 533,000 bales and practically offsets the increase in the United States supply. It seems, therefore, that prices are likely to be well maintained over the winter."

Entered at the postoffice at Bryan, Texas, April 22, 1915, as second class matter under act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

Edgar B. Davis, Texas oil millionaire, recently visited A. M. Calligo. Davis is not a Texas product, but he made his fortune here and must have absorbed much of the courage, determination and big heartedness that Texans are supposed to have. He displayed this big heartedness and tenacity of purpose when he created the $1,000,000 Luling Agricultural Foundation, which is dedicated to the bettering of agriculture in Texas and especially in Guadalupe, Caldwell and Gonzales counties. And he further displayed his tenacity in playing the "Angel" for a Broadway production, which has cost him $1,300,000 so far. He believed the play was good and backed it with his money, but New Yorkers thought otherwise and did not attend. Then Davis made the show a free performance, while that filled the theatre, yet when a fee was changed the attendance dropped down to nothing again. Now the play has been moved to Boston, after a run of some two years in New York. The play is "The Ladies" and deals with the doctrine of reincarnation, which causes one to wonder in which form the $1,300,000 will return to earth.

Bryan at the present time seems to be overflooded with an endless chain of beggars and panhandlers in various forms. This is no doubt caused by the fact our sister city of Houston not allowing them to light there for a very long period of time. The chances are that the several cases of petty larceny that have been committed in Bryan in the past few weeks, could be traced back to this class of people. Legal proceedings should be taken by the city against this class of people, and a gentle request given them when they do come to "move on."

The Brotherhood of the Free Baptist church created a school trust fund for the benefit of the legal students who meet the requirements of their rules. Each year in this nation there are thousands upon thousands of deserving young men and women who cannot finish their education due to financial reasons. There are many in this class in our own county of Bryan and city of Bryan. Funds like this are beneficial to mankind. It places the class of people who really desire an education in a position whereby they can attain their dreams. Every church of every denomination in Brazos County could well start a fund like has been started by this Free Baptist group, planting the seed of little "causes" to which a manly oak will grow.

A Bryan preacher for his sermon last Sunday took as his subject "Christ Head of the House." He showed throughout his sermon the fault of we Americans in ovary or looking the church. He examined time and time again where the more thought and money was being given to social work, lodge work and everything in particular but the church. This man was paragon, the ordinary individual goes to church, drops a nickel in the love basket and then thinks the Lord will bless him throughout the week for having done his part. We church goers never realize that the church, in order to keep going, needs the same attention and money as any ordinary business. In this age of happy go lucky life we forget that through the church this nation has become the nation that it has today. We forget that it was the church who lifted us up through the ages to the civilized people we are. If every ordinary individual would for one year tithe and also donate one-tenth of spare time to the helping of the church then part of the work that the church has done for humanity could be repaid in a small way.

Now that the football season is about drawing to a close we know of a few papers in Texas who can have new headlines every day, especially in two certain East Texas towns where a war has been in progress between two papers, about the accomplishments of their respective high school football teams. This war started on the first of October and is still going on. They play Thanksgiving and then the editors of these papers will have time to donate to some other worthwhile topic.

It's perfectly all right, and why shouldn't he as long as it's the ad? But it does look funny to see a farmer in overalls and jacket shoot his arm out to get the time from his wrist watch.

In this county we use 300,000,000 fence posts each year.

Flower Lovers Busy In Bryan After Rains

Lovers of flowers in Bryan have been busy this week following the good rains of a few days ago, preparing the home flower beds for spring planting of annuals, planting out hundreds of rose bushes, crope myrtle and other decorative shrubs, and planting the ever beautiful sweet peas in greater abundance than ever before known in the city. These expert home gardeners declare November planting of sweet peas, will give early flowering and the blossoms and plants will be larger and stronger than those planted after Christmas or in the spring.

We don't know but we do know pretty flowers when we see them and are hoping for many, many long rows of variegated sweet pea blossoms to be found in every home in Bryan during the coming year. Someone has said: "Surround the children with flowers at home, while they are young, and they will bring flowers into your heart when you are old."

Persimmon Tree Attractive To All Passers By

A show tree in Bryan at this time, is a handsome native persimmon tree at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Park, growing near the front porch, and good it is that it grows near, for the fruit is now in perfect sweetness, and the persimmons are hanging so thick and fat, that it is a tempting sight to all passers by. In its full fruitage, with its various tints of yellow, golden brown, russet red, pinks, and tones of greens and greys, the tree is a brilliant picture and the admiration of all who see it.

American Legion To Hold Banquet On Friday Night

A get-together banquet for the purpose of discussing plans for the ensuing year will be held on Friday night, Nov. 23, by members of the Earle Graham Post of the American Legion. The banquet will be held in the basement of the First Baptist church and the serving will be in charge of the Friendship Bible class of that church.

A small charge of 75 cents per plate will be charged members for this banquet, this amount going to the class having charge of the serving.

Post Commander C. L. Baker has asked that all members of the legion post be present at this banquet and not just buy a ticket, and think that your part has been done. Get your ticket and use it. This is not a money raising proposition on the part of the Legion, but purely a social and business meeting. Tickets for this banquet can be secured from L. A. Spell at Webb brothers.

Dairy Cattle of Texas Getting Smaller in Number

A. L. Darnell, head of the dairy husbandry department of Texas A. & M. College, is authority for the statement that there are fewer dairy cattle in Texas than there were a few years ago. But, Mr. Darnell points out, the total production from these cows is greater. The obvious inference is that attention is being paid to the development of better producing herds, the elimination of poor and non-paying stock, to the end that the dairy industry will return bigger dividends.

The same is probably true in other sections of the south. Wherever dairying assumed a serious importance in the farm program, more attention naturally is paid to the breeding, feeding and care of dairy animals. With its present flying start, the south should become one of the most important dairying centers of the country within the next few years, in the opinion of dairy authorities.

New Texas Egg Record Rung Up By Mexia Product

MEXIA, Nov. 16.—Hen No. 756 of the Radley Leghorn farm of Mexia laid 325 eggs in the 12-months period ending Nov. 1 for what was claimed to be a new Texas record for egg production. The total weight of the eggs laid by the hen was figured to be 676 ounces, which mark, the owner claimed, was a new world's record. A life insurance policy is being taken on the White Leghorn "biddle", which is valued at $2,000.

Forethought is that quality which warns a man that if he does not take the screen door down he will not have to put it up again next spring.

$350,000,000 ROAD ISSUE FOR TEXAS

COMMISSIONER THINKS 10-YEAR PROGRAM WILL SOON BE PASSED IN TEXAS

HOUSTON, Nov. 17.—Omens of success for his proposal of a $350,000,000 state road bond issue, to be spent over a period of 10 years are seen by R. S. Sterling, chairman of the State Highway commission, in the passage of similar bond issues by four other states in the November 6 general election.

The people of Iowa, by popular vote, authorized the issuance of $100,000,000 of bonds to complete their state road system. Missouri voted a $75,000,000 highway bond issue, its third since 1916. Pennsylvania voted $50,000,000 and Louisiana $50,000,000.

"Most of the progressive states," declares Mr. Sterling, "are adopting the 'pay as you ride' plan, via the state bond issue route, as the best possible method of getting their roads paved quickly. Texas, to must come to it, is she is to take advantage of her opportunity."

Movement Spreading
As indication of the growing popularity of state bond issues, as a means of financing state highway building, Mr. Sterling has pointed out that 24 states had passed bond issues for that purpose; prior to the recent presidential election. Last year eight states adopted them, and Georgia West Virginia and others are planning to "pay as they ride."

With the national campaign out of the way, the decks are cleared for consideration of Texas highway development, which will be the most important issue before the state legislature early next year.

Selection of Governor Moody's citizens committee, one member by the lawmakers of each senatorial district, has been completed. The committee will be convened soon to work out or adopt a program and a policy of state road financing, for recommendation to the legislature. Among the various solutions of the highway problem that have been proposed, Mr. Sterling's has attracted the most widespread attention.

Program Explained

Mr. Sterling has suggested a 10-year program of construction, to be financed by a state road bond issue of $350,000,000, secured by the gasoline tax, with refund of money paid by counties for state road construction. The refunds to be used by the counties for building lateral roads. The bond issue would be sold and the money spent in annual installments as required. Under this program, the state system of roads can be virtually completed within a decade, "so that this generation can enjoy their benefits." And he says this can be done at actually less ultimate expense to the people than the roads would cost under the present "pay cash as you go" method, which he declares would require 30 to 40 years to carry out.

The state association of county judges and commissioners, at its annual meeting in Dallas last month, endorsed the state bond principle of the plan put forth by Mr. Sterling. A number of county commissioners' courts have approved it, as have many newspapers, chambers of commerce, civic and fraternal organizations and individuals.

COLLINS & WICKES

Smetana School Notes

After having a holiday Monday the big bell at the door steps rang out its solemn call Tuesday morning. The general topic of the day was the trip to Waco. The high school students who made this trip were Mattie Nemece, Annie Brandesky, Pansy Soursares, Agnes Brandesky, Maggie Cahill, Annie Zeamenk, Emil McCalip, Anton Zeamenk, and Sam Salvaggio. We were chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Martin. All enjoyed the trip, but sorry Hattie broke her record. "That's her weakness now."

The club girls held their meeting Thursday morning. Miss Lucy Givens gave us a lecture on the appearance of the yard. The visitors were: Mrs. Fuller and Mrs. Martin.

Our song books have arrived and we are singing to the top of our voices. If any racket is heard around the building you will know what it is.

The truck drivers this year are: Mr. Franklin on the Fountain route and Mr. Seigert on the Riverside route. Both drivers are reliable men.

The subscribers are interested to know when they will receive their first copy. We first thought it would be the December copy but some delay has been made in the mailing of the order and we expect you to receive the January issue.

The occupants on the southern side of the building have cleaned up their side of the grounds. Why not us clean up our side?

Our pictures have arrived. Some are good, but some remind us of the pictures Uncle Josh took while he was up in New York. The boys' and girls' basketball team with a small pep squad, arrived on the Steele's Store grounds at four o'clock Thursday afternoon. Two real games were played, we being the winners of both games. Some good plays were made by both teams.

New Ferry To Be Operated On the Gulf Coast Line

(By Associated Press)

PORT ARTHUR, Nov. 20.—Recent signing of a contract for operation of a ferry from Galveston to Bolivar's Point is expected to open for more general travel one of the most beautiful stretches of the sea coast in the southwest.

The ferry is to be placed in operation by the city of Galveston. Use of the ferry will shorten the distance by automobile from Beaumont and Port Arthur to Galveston by more than 15 miles.

This is expected to divert a great deal of tourist traffic from the more northern route from Beaumont straight west on the Old Spanish Trail. The road runs along the beach, and a great part of the way at the water's edge makes a perfect driveway.

October Shows Decrease in Number Of Unemployed in Texas, Unskilled Labor, However, Shows an Increase

AUSTIN, Nov. 20.—Unemployment decreased in Texas during October but a surplus of unskilled labor was still apparent at the close of the month, the federal labor department employment service reports.

Several lumber mills reported time schedules but the volume of employment in this industry increased. The majority of the textile mills operated full time and employed additional workers. A shortage on skilled textile mill labor was apparent in several sections.

Stone, glass and clay products plants, furniture factories, food and kindred plants, leather tanneries, department stores, cottonseed oil mills and paper and printing houses employed additional workers. Woodworking plants, iron and steel mills, beverage plants, and plants manufacturing oil and well supplies curtailed their forces.

Sufficient building is under way in most localities to employ the resident craftsmen. There has been a large demand for cotton pickers with a shortage reported in many districts.

Following is a summary of the employment conditions in some of the larger cities:

Dallas: Although practically all plants operated on full time schedules, forces in the lumber and iron and steel mills and several smaller industries were curtailed. Textile mills and paper and printing establishments also released a number of workers. A fair volume of building is under way and resident craftsmen were steadily employed throughout October. Municipal improvements continued to employ a number of unskilled workers. A surplus of labor consisted principally of unskilled help, was apparent.

Houston: An upward trend in industrial activity was apparent during the month. All plants operated full time and additional workers were employed in the textile mills and furniture factories. The iron and steel mills and plants manufacturing oil well supplies released a few men. A surplus of unskilled factory labor was reported with a shortage of skilled workers apparent in some lines, including skilled cabinet workers. Sufficient building tradesmen were available for all demands. Cotton picking afforded employment to a large number of workers.

Fort Worth: The lumber and textile mills, department stores, cottonseed oil mills, and stone glass and clay products plants increased their forces. Full time operations prevailed in most plants, but food and kindred products plants and the iron and steel industry reported some part time. New building permits are being issued and resident building tradesmen are assured of steady employment for some time to come. Road construction and the construction of a bridge totaling $4,700,000 cost furnished employment to a large number of skilled and unskilled laborers. A shortage of cotton pickers was reported during the month. A surplus of unskilled labor exists.

San Antonio: The labor supply and demand were well balanced during the month except for a slight surplus of unskilled workers. All plants operated full time and additional workers were employed in food and kindred plants; leather tanneries and railroad shops. The textile mills released some workers. Cottonseed oil mills, steel fabricating shops and plants assembling machinery worked overtime. Sufficient building tradesmen for all demands.

Galveston: Full time schedules in the majority of the local industries, cotton compresses and warehouses engaged additional workers. Some laborers were released from the shipping terminals. Skilled workers were well employed, the surplus of labor apparent at the close of the month consisted principally of unskilled workers.

Texarkana: Plants manufacturing food and kindred products, beverages, and the lumber mills reported part-time schedules. The beverage plants and several miscellaneous industries curtailed their forces somewhat while cottonseed oil mills employed additional workers. A number of large building projects are under way with a supply of skilled labor and unskilled labor to equal the demands.

Waco: Lumber and textile mills, department stores paper and printing establishments increased their forces. All plants reported full time schedules except one flour mill which operated on part time basis. A shortage of skilled textile mill labor was reported. New building permits have recently been issued which, with the work already under way, insures employment for a large number of men for some time to come. A surplus of unskilled labor was apparent at the close of the month.

El Paso: The labor supply and demand were well balanced during the past 30 days. Additional workers were employed in several industries and practically all plants reported full time schedules. Woodworking establishments curtailed their forces somewhat. Sufficient building under way to employ the local tradesmen. A shortage of farm help was reported at the close of the month.

Beaumont: Except for a small surplus of chiefly transient workers the local labor supply and demand were well balanced throughout October. Full time operations prevailed in practically all industries and the iron and steel mills increased their forces. Building includes the erection of several apartment houses, residences and a considerable amount of alteration and repair work. The harvesting of the rice, fig and cotton crops afforded employment to many workers.

RESIDENT ELECT BOARDS

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Nov. 19.—Robert Hoover arrived here this morning from Palo Alto and went immediately aboard the Battleship Maryland for his goodwill trip to the Pacific Coast. The president-elect was met at his train by Admiral William Pratt, commander-in-chief of the Pacific Coast battle fleet, and a group of other naval officials who escorted him to the battleship launch which put off immediately down the bay to the Battleship. Five minutes later there was a series of booming blasts and a presidential salute of 21 guns.

ilroads Apply Commission for Transit Rights

(By Associated Press)
JUSTIN, Nov. 20.—All Texas railroads except the Fort Worth and Denver City and the Wichita Falls have applied to the state railroad commission for authority to establish transit privileges of coal and cotton seed oil shipments at Dallas, Sherman, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Greenville and Houston.

The commission will hold a meeting during the application sometime during the December term, opening Dec. 11.

If the transit privilege is granted, oil shipments may be stopped at the city named, manufactured into oil substitutes, and reshipped to consuming points at a cost representing a large saving over what the unrelated shipments would cost.

The oil would take the regular rate to the transit point, under the system proposed. From the transit point, the oil substitutes manufactured there would take the regular rates for each commodity plus $8.10 for each outbound car. Then 34 per cent of the inbound freight charges on oil seed as an ingredient in manufacture of oil substitutes would be refunded, provided the refund would not exceed 15 1-2 cents a hundred pounds.

Two Paris Men Receive Medal For War Service

PARIS, Nov. 19.—Ten years after the armistice, which ended the World War, two Paris men received decorations for services in the defense of Verdun in 1918, when American troops were attached to French forces.

Granville Farmer, postoffice dispatching clerk, and Edgar George, department store employee, received medals from the city of Verdun for their part in the defense of the city when they were with the 28th or keystone division. An appropriate inscription of gratitude is engraved on the medals. Each of the Paris veterans has five citations, one personal, three company and one regimental. Farmer was wounded in foreign service.

Children's Milk Should Be Given Consideration

DENTON, Nov. 20.—Infant feeding is very important problem in many households. There is no milk that will take the place of mother's milk for infants. For this reason every mother should consider seriously the necessity of milk for her child before giving it artificial food. Cow's milk and goat's milk modified according to the age of the baby are the best artificial food. It is necessary to use milk that has a low fat content and for this reason, Jersey milk is not satisfactory. If it is diluted with water the protein content is too small.

One disadvantage in artificial feeding is that there is a danger of contamination. Therefore special care of food and container is important. Boiling of course kills the vitamin C content and must have tomato or orange juice added. Unless the milk is strictly fresh it may contain very little vitamin C content even if it is not boiled. Therefore, to be safe, it is best to add the orange juice or tomato juice anyhow. Cod liver oil and egg yolk should be included to prevent rickets. The egg yolk is also rich in phosphorus and iron, which aid in producing a child of normal growth. Spinach is a source of vitamins and iron and should be added to the child's diet at about six months of age. This may be used by making vegetable soup of finely chopped spinach, carrots, turnips, potato, of equal parts all cooked until tender but no longer. Rub through sieve with the liquid in which it has been cooked. Two tablespoons of cereal that has been cooked from two to three hours in a double boiler may be added to this vegetable gruel. This is a means of adding cereal to the diet, which is rich in food value and aids in stopping constipation.

Spinach may be served by itself. When it is cooked alone it should not be cooked more than twenty minutes in its own juice. Only the juice should be given to young babies. When they are older they may be given spinach that is finely chopped.

Secret Orders Required to File Laws With State

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The supreme court dealt a blow to the Ku Klux Klan by holding constitutional a New York state law requiring the Klan and similar organizations to file with the secretary of state their oaths, by-laws and roster of membership.

Justice Vandever in reading the opinion quoted from opinions delivered in New York state courts bitterly denouncing the Klan.

A dissenting opinion was rendered by Justice McReynolds, who asserted that the court had no jurisdiction and was making an exception to precedents in deciding the case.

The case was decided on an appeal brought by George W. Bryant, alleged to be a member of the Klan in Buffalo, who was arrested for alleged non-compliance with the law. Bryant sued out a writ of habeas corpus but lost.

The Walker law, Bryant alleged, violated the fourteenth amendment to the constitution by depriving him of "life, liberty or property, without due process of law." The New York law excepts the Masons, Knights of Columbus, labor unions and some other organizations.

Famous Justice Gives Penalties In Ancient Times

In one of the company offices this morning an ancient personage was brought to life in a discussion of the powers of a justice of the peace. This person was Justice Bean of the Great Bend territory, who was known throughout the State of Texas as "Justice Bean, from beyond the Pecos."

Bean in his time took the law in his own hands and meted out that justice which he thought was right. He tried burglars, cow thieves, murderers and all forms of cases, and pronounced sentence. He sentenced men to be hung, he sent them to the penitentiary, he fined them or gave them any penalty he thought best.

One case brought to light by this famous dispenser of justice, was a murder case in which a Chinaman was killed. After listening to various arguments from both sides, the justice dug up some ancient law books, and finally decided that nothing was contained therein about the killing of a Chinaman and the defendant in the case was acquitted.

Another case handled by Justice Bean, was a charge of "pistol toting." The defendant in this case was found guilty and did not have the money to pay the fine which was assessed against him, the justice therefore decided to take the pistol as full payment of the fine.

The law as this justice handled it, is quite different from the way it is done in these modern times. A present day justice having only the power to assess fines in misdemeanor cases.

Criminal Courts May Rule on Collision Law

AUSTIN, Nov. 17.—Whether a city ordinance providing that proof of a collision is prima facie evidence of negligence, is in violation of the legislative decree that a "defendant in a criminal case is presumed to be innocent until his guilt is established by legal evidence beyond a reasonable doubt," may be referred to the Court of Criminal Appeals for decision.

An appeal from a verdict in corporation court assessing a fine of $150 against an Austin negro under the "negligent collision" ordinance, as taken was taken to the county court and if the city court is sustained the case will be taken to the appellate court, attorneys said.

Texas Counties Receive More Fee Than Is Allowed

FORT WORTH, Nov. 19.—"There are ten counties in Texas which receive more license fee money than they are allowed to retain under the limit fixed at $50,000," says an analytical article appearing in the November number of Texas Highways, a magazine devoted to securing a uniform system of connected and dependable highways for Texas.

For the first time since the establishment of the Highway Department, a complete analysis of motor vehicle license fees with illustrative tables, worked out by an expert is given to the public. This article has been prepared for the purpose of ascertaining certain facts in reference to registration and is given publicity at this time as a contribution to the work to be done by the committee of 31 to be appointed by Governor Moody to study every phase of the highway situation in Texas and make recommendations to the legislature.

Much interest is being manifested at this time in a uniform gasoline tax law. The automotive industry has grown to the extent that all of the states and the Dominion of Canada as well, are deeply interested in the adoption of such a law, which will not only prescribe a simple and equitable method for the collection of the tax, but also one for ferreting out the violators of the law and administering the prescribed penalty.

A complete text of the Model Gasoline Tax Law, adopted by the North American Gasoline Tax Conference, held at Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 1, 2 and 3, is carried in the November issue of Texas Highways Magazine.

Dr. Jones who is a veterinary surgeon, came here about six months ago to take up his duties with the Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture, of which Dr. Munce is the "chief." Baptism Service Held by Baptist Sunday Night

A beautiful baptism service was witnessed at the new First Baptist church in this city, Sunday, following the evening sermon. The baptistry, effectively lighted with a translucent glass picture of the River Jordan, and Jesus being baptized by John, shows the water through the glass across the front of the pool, giving the effect of the river, and as the minister and the candidate take their places in the center, the effect is a beautiful and impressive one. Fourteen were baptized at the Sunday night service as follows: Mrs. Charley Myers, Bessie Skelton, Marjorie Jones, Irene Higgs; Messrs. M. F. Martin, A. K. Jennings, Lewis Ball, W. C. Pate, I. H. Johnson, Victor Aiken, W. L. Cowden, J. J. McCarty, J. Poole and Marion Jones.

P. T. A. Leader Returns From State Meeting

Mrs. E. O. Siecke of College, president of Ninth District P.-T. A., returned Saturday night from Amarillo, where during the past week she attended the annual meeting of the State P.-T. A. convention held in that city. Mrs. Siecke was shown many courtesies by the convention and was named as chairman of the nominating committee, one of the most important places of the convention work.

About 400 delegates were present, at the Amarillo convention, Mrs. Siecke states, and considering the distance across Texas to Amarillo, that was a splendid attendance. The weather was ideal throughout the convention, the interest alert, and the only thing to mar the spirit of the occasion was the absence of Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, state president P.-T. A. who was unable to be present on account of illness, she being in the hospital at Temple during the entire time.

Mrs. Siecke brought back to Bryan the good news that Bryan East Side P.-T. A. and College Station P.-T. A. were among the twelve associations in the state declared to be standard associations for the past year, and each association will receive its certificate as a Standard Association.

To become a standard association in P.-T. A. work, requires certain per cent of parents and teachers on attendance throughout the year, certain standing committees at work, special programs rendered, etc. These requirements were all met by Bryan East Side and College Station, as their certificates of excellence show.

Mrs. F. L. Thomas of College was elected state chairman of Children's reading. Waco was declared the convention city for 1929, winning over Dallas with a vote of 17 to 8.

One woman in the Ninth District gave $1,000 to the State P.-T. A. endowment fund, at the Amarillo convention. This was Mrs. J. M. Woodson of Temple, whose splendid and efficient service in P.-T. A. work is recognized not only in the Ninth District and Texas, but in national P.-T. A. programs.

Sage of Emporia to Make Interesting Address at College

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 19.—Bryan and College Station people are promised an address of more than ordinary interest on the appearance in the Assembly Hall at the college the night of Dec. 5 of William Allen White, editor of the Emporia Gazette of Emporia, Kan. Mr. White, publicist and nationally known editor, will speak on "The Citizen's Business."

Mr. White will appear as one of the speakers on this year's program of the Social Science Seminar. A colorful figure whose active interest in politics has placed him in the forefront of public attention for years, the "Sage of Emporia," as he is sometimes called, is a forceful speaker and a deep thinker on questions of public importance. He will appear at Dallas prior to his appearance here.

Adults Contract Children's Diseases

Adults can, and do, contract many children's diseases. And, usually, they suffer from them much more than children do. For instance, many adults contract worms, an ailment usually associated with children. Sometimes they suffer intensely and take expensive medical treatments, without realizing that worms are the cause of their troubles. Yet, the symptoms are the same as in children, loss of appetite and weight, grinding the teeth and restlessness, itching of the nose and ears, and abdominal pain. And, the same medicine that surely and harmlessly expels round and pin worms from children will do the same for adults — White's Cream Vermifuge, which you can get at Roman & Vick. (Adv.)

Aviation Signs Needed Says Bryan Flier

"Aviation signs are guide posts to the aviator, just as road signs serve to direct auto traffic on our highways," said Walter Wiprecht and his "Buddy," E. R. Anding, who are in Bryan enroute to Peru, South America, to do commercial flying.

Walter Wiprecht is a Bryan boy who is now employed by the Huffland Dusters Inc., with headquarters at Monroe, La., and Anding is an ex-student of A. and M. College of '26.

The new "air-way" sign, recently painted on the roof of the building occupied by Chambers-Wilson Motor Company attracted the attention of these two aviators as they made their landing near Bryan, and both accept this on the part of Bryan's business men as an evidence of progress in an already wide-awake town.

"Bryan has taken a progressive step forward in painting this guide sign," is the opinion of both Anding and Wiprecht.

"Municipal air ports will soon be considered as necessary by progressive cities as are railway stations, hotels and garages," said Mr. Anding, "and the fact that there is not a first class air port between Waco and Houston gives Bryan an excellent chance to get in on the ground floor," he continued.

When Anding was a student at A. and M. College in 1926, he bought an airplane and arranged to pay for it in installments of $50 each month. At the time he made the purchase he had employment that made this possible. When bad luck and loss of employment overtook him, so great was his love for the art of flying that he worked as night fireman at the College power plant and even sold articles of his own clothing to make it possible for him to meet payments on his machine.

Anding also is associated with the Huffland Dusters, Inc., and both he and Walter Wiprecht are bound for Peru on official business for their firm which handles big contracts for treating cotton to control crop pests by airplane methods.

Lower Valley to Be Visited by College Chief

Dr. J. J. Taubenhau, plant pathologist with the A. and M. College Experiment Station, left Monday for a week's trip through the lower Rio Grande Valley where he will study root rot and fall truck diseases.

Dr. Taubenhau has just returned from Fort Worth where he addressed the Southwest Claims Conference on "The Rotting of Perishables in Transit."

Before going to Fort Worth, Dr. Taubenhau had spent several days in the vicinity of San Antonio studying soils there as related to the occurrence of potato scab.

Negro County Agent Receiving Club Records

L. A. Nash, county agent at Brazos County for negroes, is at the present collecting crop record books from negro members of the 4-H club. Approximately 75 books were distributed to young negro boys this season for the purpose and of this number there has been about 20 of them properly filled out, and turned in.

From the first group turned in the following boys show the best records: Tommy Ellis from Brushy Creek school and Elbert Ellis and Joe M. Nash from Cedar Grove school.

County Agent Nash advises that these boys are not necessarily the winners, but are only the best in those so far turned in to him, and that there are 50 or more books yet to be received.

Home Products Association Is Advocated for Bryan as Means To Stimulate Brazos Products

By NELL BENTLEY

What could be more practical than a cooperative market where farm women might bring farm products for sale and town housewives might go to buy things fresh from the local farms? Many such markets have been successfully established throughout the United States and several in the state of Texas.

Such a market, however, if it is to succeed, will not be merely a building or shed where individuals may pay a nominal license fee and then enter into sales competition with their neighbors in disposing of surplus farm products of all varieties and qualities. It must be an organized concern, with definite business policies, and products must be standardized and graded and then sold according to grade and quality not so much to eliminate competition as to make it possible to fix a price schedule based on weight, quality and variety and thus facilitate sales by making selections easier for the patrons of the market.

The Texas Extension Service in its annual report for 1927, summarizes the development of farm home markets in Texas as follows: "The home marketing that has developed in Texas has come because there was a surplus of certain types of raw products in certain localities; there was a general demand on the part of farm women to make some money in their homes; there was a demand from the consumers of certain products, and there were certain individual women and girls who had particular aptitudes and capabilities in this direction."

Abbie Sevier, home demonstration agent in Mitchell county reports that between $13,342 and $20,000 worth of farm products were sold through the efforts of the Mitchell County Home Products Association at Colorado, during the year of 1927. This particular market has handled quite a large volume of canned products from the farms of Mitchell county, and Miss Sevier gives local merchants full credit for introducing the canned products to their trade, at first handling the farm products on a non-profit sharing basis, and later at a very nominal commission. Colorado merchants are now buying the canned products from Mitchell county farms at wholesale prices and in large quantities, the quality of canned goods put out through the county association being already established with their trade.

The board of managers for Mitchell County Home Product Association is composed of one member from each community club in the county, and the affairs of the association are carried on largely through this committee. The committee on standards is composed of three women, and they must approve all products before they may be sold under the association label. Members of home demonstration clubs and other women doing work under the supervision of the home demonstration agent may sell through the association. All pay an annual membership fee of $1 in the association.

The Mitchell county association looked forward to a better and more systematic business plan for the year of 1928, and many are watching anxiously for this year's report to observe the expansion and growth as the quality of products offered for sale become standardized and established with the buyers, and under a business system that has proven essential to progress and development.

Thelma Barber, home demonstration agent for Fannin county, says that the greater part of 1927 was devoted to working out the problems involved in conducting the market for farm products there. She characterizes this experience as a means to an end, in that her club women learned that if their sales are to be satisfactory, they must put out products that please the public as well as their husbands.

Miss Barber says they also learned that the public is willing to pay for attractive containers, standardized products and efficient service, and that superior quality is recognized by those who buy food products was evidenced in the popularity of the fruits and vegetables prepared and canned under standardization methods.

The first market in Fannin county was conducted by a woman who volunteered her services and charged one cent per container as a commission on the canned goods sold. Her offer was accepted by 19 women, who each made a separate list of the products she offered for sale, pasting her own name and address on every container. A total of 666 containers were placed in a booth during the county fair, and 387 of these were sold for a total sum of $98.70. These served as an advertisement for products offered later, and also gave an idea of what products would be most popular in such a market.

The following "Classified Ads" are clipped from an Oklahoma paper and the writer had the pleasure of being a guest on the opening day of this county farm market last June:

"FARM WOMEN'S CLUB MARKET, open Saturdays 9 a. m. to 2 p. m., rear Hoke building. Home-cooked cakes, bread, pies, meats, vegetables, cheese, dressed fryers and hens."

"TURKEYS for Thanksgiving. Leave orders for dressed turkeys at the Farm Women's Market, Hoke building, Saturday, between 9 and 2 o'clock."

This market has a business manager elected for a period of three months, and who receives a nominal commission on each day's sales to take care of all business matters and check the sales and commissions at the close of the day. The manager is assisted by members of the different community clubs who take turns acting in capacity of saleswoman.

Thus, in the course of a year a great number of women have a chance to observe the business methods employed and have some experience in the matter of meeting the buying public in a way that is an education in itself.

The products offered for sale here were carefully graded for variety and quality, placed in convenient and attractive containers and placed in three divisions, cakes, pies, breads and salads; fruits and vegetables; poultry and dairy products. At least this was the general distinction as made on the occasion of my visit during the summer months, although one may easily see that a different season of the year might necessitate some alteration in this general scheme.

The business manager presided at a table in the center of the room and received all money in payment for sales, carefully filing away the sales tickets made out by those in charge of the three divisions, on which the name of the article, its value, and the name of the woman who offered it for sale was written. This made checking up at the end of the day a matter of tabulating each member's sales and the total value of same.

Small containers of salads, etc., were conveniently placed on the table where the manager sat, so that customers might "sample" any product that held a question as to flavor or quality before she made her purchase.

The fact that this market is still operating and apparently knows the value of systematic advertising in itself would indicate that it is succeeding, and we hope to be able to give our local readers some interesting figures on its growth and expansion after the first year when the annual report of the home demonstration agent there has been compiled.

We have often heard members of civic organizations in Bryan express a willingness to patronize local farms in the matter of buying perishable products as well as other articles of food, but a satisfactory market system will have to be worked out before in production and buying will serve both the grower and the consumer efficiently.

Often marketing means an opportunity to sell under systematic business policies that give equal opportunities to all producers of products, prices to be regulated by quality; and economic buying is possible only when consumers may buy a standard product on a quality basis and under conditions that offer convenience in selection and efficiency in selling service.

Why wouldn't such a market established in Bryan prove successful?

The Bryan Delphian Chapter met at Carnegie Library on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Mrs. Thos. Lundin acting as leader for the day.

The subject for the day was "English Literature, Saxon and Norman Elements," with text reports assigned as follows: "Beowulf," Mrs. E. D. Fuller; "Life and Works of Chaucer," Mrs. M. R. Bentley; "Story of the Chanson," Mrs. Henry Moehman; "Fate of Roland's Army," Mrs. M. W. Owens; and "The Death of Learners," Mrs. Sam Cavitt.

The next regular meeting will be held on the first Friday in December, and the subject for study will be "English Literature, Saxon and Norman Elements," continued.

The president Mrs. F. D. Fuller, urges a full and prompt attendance of members at all meetings.

Scouts To Have Basket Ball Squad

The Boy Scout's of Bryan held their regular weekly meeting at the Episcopal Parish House, under the leadership of their assistant scout master. The meeting started with regular routine business, such as the reading of minutes of the previous meeting and the treasurer's report.

The subject of a basket ball team for the troop was decided upon and work to that end will start in the very near future. More books were donated to the scout library by its various members. The library allows each scout member to take books from same for a period of not to exceed one week and any period over this will be charged for at the rate of 1c per day.

Farming Methods Improve

Some one has said: "Great changes are taking place in farming, three of which are of major importance. These are: 1, adoption of better methods of production; 2, use of larger and better equipment to save labor cost; 3, study of returns through adequate accounting to discover what does and what does not pay."

Poor Eggs Make Poor Market

It is said that only 18 dozen out of the 30 dozen in a crate of "current run eggs," as they come from country merchants, reach the big cities, like Chicago, fit for human consumption. It is said that a car load of bad eggs reach the Houston trade territory every week in the year. Of course the producer must stand this loss, but it seems that we have not yet learned that this is one cause of poor egg markets. Let us remember that we can not force everybody to eat scrambled eggs, the kind that are always good(?).

Permanent Prosperity

Permanent prosperity in the poultry business must be built on better breeding, good management, and efficient marketing. Lacketh thou any one of these?

Hog Prices Slump

Hog prices have slumped during the last two or three months, but this should not check our plans to produce ample meat and lard for home consumption. Our first consideration should be meat and lard for home consumption and after that, market supply.

Terracing School Helpful

Among other things you will learn at the terracing school, Dec. 6, is how to adjust a farm level, how much fall to give terraces, how to find the distance between terraces, how high and how broad to build terraces, and last, but not least, you will hear "Dad" Short preach a fine fifteen minute sermon on "saving the soil," a thing as we see it directly related to saving the soul, after all is said.

Millican Notes

MILLICAN, Nov. 22.—Rev. Hensley and family have been sent to the Huntsville Circuit for another year. We regret to lose these good people, but extend a warm welcome to their successors, Rev. Secord and family and wish for them a pleasant and successful year among us.

The Baptist ladies turned their meeting Tuesday into a social hour and entertained their retiring president, Mrs. J. Walter Smith, who leaves us in a few days for her future home in Navasota. She was parting with a lovely rug as a parting gift and all expressed their regrets at her leaving them and a hope to have her with them often. Mrs. Steve Moore of Navasota was a welcome guest. Their meeting today embraces a miscellaneous shower for another member, recently married, Mrs. Hazel Arnold. Hazel has been reared in this Sunday School and church and is a member of their auxiliary and all unite with them in sincere good wishes for her happiness. These auxiliary members are rustlers.

They served pie and coffee election day and the past Saturday sold oysters clearing quite a little sum to be applied on new pews to be purchased soon.

A. B. Ford passed through Millican Sunday evening and was warmly greeted by old friends. Mr. Ford was principal of Millican school a few years ago.

Alvin Abbott died at the home of his aunt, Mrs. A. J. Edmonds, Saturday. His body was taken overland to Normangee Sunday where his mother resides. He had been ill some time, but his death was no less a shock and great sorrow to his mother, brothers and sisters. We sorrow with them.

Mrs. Wm. Powers and daughter Cora Beth of Bryan, visited last week. Mrs. J. Walter Smith hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sawyer of Houston, visited Millican home folks last week.

Chas. McFerrin and bride visited his mother, Mrs. Jesse McFerrin, recently.

Millican friends rejoice over the news that Mr. Alvin Gregg is able to be up again and hope for his speedy recovery.

Mrs. John Williams has gone to spend the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays at her old home in Mississippi, returning with her brother John Dukes, who had been visiting her and whom she had not seen in 43 years.

Mrs. Wallace Dunlap and Mrs. Paul McWallace have been with their sister, Mrs. Alvin Gregg in Bryan, have returned home.

December 1 Dead Line

The month of November is the time for completing the year's 4-H work and the beginning of the new. All girls who complete the year's work and submit a complete record and story by Dec. 1 will be awarded a certificate. The majority of 4-H girls have their records complete and are anxiously awaiting the diploma which will be awarded early in the new year. Then as an additional honor, those granted certificates will be eligible to wear a 4-H Club pin. Those receiving a first year certificate may wear a bronze pin of four leaf clover design. The second year pin is silver oxidized. A gold pin may be worn by third year girls. Those finishing four years of work may wear a gold pin with a Texas Star guard.

Home Decorations

Each year 4-H girls do something to improve the home. The interior home improvement work for 1928 centers around the girl's bedroom. Each girl is to do at least the following: Improve the walls of her bedroom in some way, report principles of room care which she is applying, have a clothes closet of some kind with a shelf for shoes, and a pole or hook for hangers, have an orderly dresser with top free from toilet articles, cosmetics and medicines and with drawers arranged systematically, and make a towel. Brazos county girls are already at work on this subject. Just now they are taking more responsibility in the systematic care and arrangement of their clothing and are relieving their mothers of this duty. Several girls are already planning clothes closets. One plan is to construct a shelf in a corner of the room. A pole for hangers is to be attached. A heavy curtain which harmonizes with other things in the room will be hung to protect the dresses. A wall pocket for shoes, etc., will be placed on one of the wall spaces behind the curtain.

or a friend, whose name was not learned, from Houston, came up for the A. and M.-Rice game Saturday. They stopped over with relatives in Millican Sunday. With them was Houston Smith, a student at A. and M.

Leonard Man Has Close Shave From Smothered Death

C. P. Krezinski of Leonard, one of the popular school trustees of that district, was in Bryan today and a pleasant visitor at the Eagle office. He tells a very harrowing experience of while working on his well, which was some 20 feet deep, the top caved in and as he was dropping down he caught to the wood curbing and saved himself by a close margin from a terrible death of being buried alive.

JINX AFTER FATHER GLEISSNER WHEN HE TRAVELS BY AUTOMOBILE

The "Jinx" is after me," said Father J. B. Gleissner, in relating his experience of another accident, while coming down from Dallas on the bus. This is the second accident Father Gleissner has experienced in the past two months. Some weeks ago he was returning from Beaumont and the car in which he was riding was overturned and he received a broken rib and little finger. While the last accident was not so serious yet he was bruised and painfully hurt. "From this time forward I shall travel by train and see if I can't lose this 'Jinx,'" said Father Gleissner.

Moody Refuses Request to Call Special Session

AUSTIN, Nov. 21.—Governor Dan Moody said that he has declined several requests to call a special session of the legislature immediately to make provision for pay of justices of the peace in criminal cases.

The Court of Criminal Appeals recently declared the portion of the fee law applying to justices of the peace unconstitutional, because the pay of the justices depended on convicting defendants.

Several calls have urged the Governor to call a special legislative session to remedy the resulting situation, which leaves the justices without pay.

Over 1,000,000,000 pencils are used each year by students and grown-ups in the United States.

AGGIES TO HAVE NEW SCHEDULE

TO PLAY KANSAS AGGIES AT DALLAS IN PLACE OF SEWANEE

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 21.—With the announcement by James Sullivan, business manager of athletics at the A. and M. College of Texas, of the closing of negotiations whereby the Texas Aggies will meet the Kansas Aggies on Oct. 12 at Dallas next year, the 1929 gridiron schedule of the Texas Aggies stands completed.

The game with the Kansas Aggies, one of the big six teams of the Missouri Valley, will be played during the State Fair and will replace the Aggie-Sewanee intersectional tilt for next year cancelled by mutual agreement. Previous announcement has been made to the effect that the Texas Aggies will meet Tulane University on State Fair date in Dallas in 1930 as well as in 1932.

The game with the Kansas Aggies next year at Dallas is expected to be of more than ordinary interest not only because of the ranking of the Kansas team but by reason of the fact that the Kansas Aggies have as coach "Bo" McMillan, former player at the North Side High School in Fort Worth, who through his record as a member of the famous Centre College eleven of 1921 attained national prominence in gridiron circles and was an unanimous choice on the All-American mythical eleven that year.

The record of the team that fared forth from Danville, Ky., in 1921 to place the name of Centre College, therefore little known in national sports talk, on the lips of every football fan in the country, included a 6-0 defeat of Harvard in the east, defeat of West Virginia in the south, and a surprising victory in the west. Centre College on the strength of that record laid claim to the national championship only to meet a 22 to 14 defeat, however, at the hands of the 1921 championship Texas Aggies in a colorful post season conflict on New Year's Day at Fair Park Stadium in Dallas.

Following his sensational record at Centre, McMillan coach at Centenary College, Shreveport, La., and later made an impressive record as coach at Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa. This is his second year as coach at the State Agricultural College at Manhattan, Kan.

Bryan Hatchery Member of Baby Chick Campaign

The Sunshine Hatcheries, of Bryan, is a member of the Baby Chick Campaign which is sponsoring the present $10,000 prize contest for the best letter on "Why It Pays to Buy Chicks From a Hatchery," according to F. W. Kazmeier, proprietor.

This contest, which closes February 28, 1928, is open to everyone, with the exception of hatchery operators, their employees, and families. Mr. Kazmeier said. It provides a rare opportunity for rural residents and farm people generally because they are already familiar with poultry and poultry raising, he pointed out.

Prizes offered are as follows: $2,000; third prize, $1,000; fourth prize, $500; fifth prize, $250; sixth prize, $125; the next ten prizes, $50 each; and the next twenty-five prizes, $25 each.

Letters must not exceed 500 words in length, and must be on the subject, "Why It Pays to Buy Chicks From a Hatchery." The letters should contain the writer's ideas on the subject, written in simple, straightforward language. All letters must be mailed on or before February 28, 1929, to Contest Editor, Campaign Headquarters, 705 Third National Building, Dayton, Ohio. Original thoughts contained in the letters will determine the winners, rather than excellent literary style.

"The hatcheries in this Baby Chick Campaign are united for the purpose of insuring fair treatment and quality stock to their customers," Mr. Kazmeier said. "Reliable hatcheries and members of allied industries throughout the entire country are a part of this organization, members of which display the slogan, 'Hatchery Chicks for Greater Profits.' This $10,000 prize contest was sponsored in order to obtain direct from users of baby chicks, their ideas as to why hatchery chicks are a profitable investment. Prizes are to be awarded about March 31."

THE MALE SPECIE GO ONE
BETTER WITH RICE CO-EDS

HOUSTON, Nov. 21.—Hose or socks rolled down the limit is no longer a comfort to be enjoyed by females only. Five Rice Institute Eds have shown that both sexes can play that game.

The boys recently were the center of campus attraction when they appeared wearing golf nickers with brilliantly hued golf hose rolled down about their ankles.

"We're keeping up with the girls," was their only excuse. A few weeks ago several Rice girls introduced the stockingless effect by wearing to class bright colored socks rolled around their shoe tops.

Highway Meeting Called by Moody For Next Tuesday

AUSTIN, Nov. 21.—Governor Moody has called his highway legislation conference for next Tuesday, Nov. 27, at Austin to discuss road policies and programs to be recommended to the Forty-first legislature.

The meeting will practically determine the general and perhaps specific character of highway laws to be enacted. Many of the proposals already being urged probably will be threshed out.

The list of those whose names have been sent to the Governor are: W. A. McCartney, Texarkana; W. E. Thomason, Nacogdoches; Ed Murphy, Livingston; Cone Johnson, Tyler; R. J. Easley, Detroit; John V. Singleton, Waxahatchie; J. M. Penland, Waco; Charles S. Gainer, Bryan; R. L. Pettus, Goliad; Judge George Calhoun, Austin; Charles Neblett, Stephenville; Ben L. Russell, Baird; D. K. ALVIN MOODY OF HOUSTON HOOPER DEMOCRATIC HEAD IN TEXAS TO BE HONORED

The neighbors and home folks of Alvin S. Moody of Houston, state chairman of the Hoover Democratic forces in Texas in the recent election, will give a banquet in his honor on Saturday, Nov. 24, seven-thirty o'clock, at the Rice Hotel. Many Bryan and Brazos County citizens have been included in this invitation.

Child Injured in Automobile Crash

RANGER, Nov. 21.—H. L. Baskin Jr., one of 5-year-old twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Baskin, was injured, probably fatally, when a Texas & Pacific passenger train crashed into his mother's automobile here today.

The mother, seeing a crash was inevitable, endeavored frantically to unlock the doors to allow the twins to escape. Unsuccessful, she jumped from the car and tried to unlock them from the outside, but the train bore down upon her before she could open them.

Mrs. Baskin and the other son, M. L. Baskin, escaped with minor injuries.

Smetana Citizen Making Old Time Board Shingles

J. R. Cahill of Smetana, was visitor to the Eagle office to and displayed several old-fashioned hand-made shingles. These shingles are made with an old-fashioned instrument known as a "frow." The boards are first cut in two or four foot lengths and then hewed out to the proper width.

Years ago in the time of our great grandfathers, this method was the only way possible in high to make coverings for houses and in some instances they were cut in longer lengths and made in flooring.

Mr. Cahill's boards were made from Brazos county boom land pin oak trees and for one of these trees was taken enough timber to cut 1,200 boards.

These boards are made by Mr. Cahill for his own consumption and used mostly in the covering of smoke houses, barns, chicken, and various out houses.

One resident of Bryan who viewed these old time boards was J. McSouty Superintendent D. J. McDonald, who resided in Tennessee, where one of the natives secured enough timber from his white oak tree to make an entire house with the exception of the rafters.

This method of making building material is quite in contrast to the modern day ideas.

Revival Services Draw Big Crowds For Free Baptist

"The First Day in Eternity," was the subject of the theme for Tuesday evening as presented to a very large audience at the Free Baptist church by Rev. M. L. Hollis in his revival sermon. The text was from Luke 23:43: "And Jesus said unto him, verily I say unto thee, today shalt thou be with me in paradise."

Rev. Hollis endeavored with a seriousness to impress the importance of this subject upon his listeners.

Very few people realize the meaning of the word eternity. Time is too limited to measure eternity said Rev. Hollis. We are under a life sentence from God. He is giving us the opportunity to make our decision. Shall it be heaven of shall it be hell? We have the right of choice to make the decision for ourselves. God is just and merciful and will not let the death of any man.

"The saddest thought of life is going to death without Christ," said Rev. Hollis. "Life is so uncertain. Sometimes we are under death without a moment's warning. He urged that it was very important that we do not neglect the welfare of our souls."

In conclusion a very earnest plea was made for decision for Christ.
